

Pedro Lopes Negrão de Lima

Graduated in Industrial Design at FACAMP (Brazil) and master in Interactive Technologies at UPorto (Portugal), I have professional experience in design applied to physical and digital products.

After a decade or so working with furniture and architecture related projects, I decided to focus on creating solutions to digital products. I found my passion on UX Design, having working with projects for digital transformation, AR/VR and the cyber domain.

Thus, I've been working with UX Design since 2020. I have worked in various projects from concept to final product.
